Cooper's Sunday.

A JOLLY FRIEND.

Quantity Not Quality

Teacher. Willie, have you whispered today without permission?

Willie. Yes, wunst.

Teacher. Johnnie, should Willie have said "wunst?"

Johnnie (triumphantly). No, ma'am, he should have said "twist."

Dairy Industry of the United States

According to the last year book of the Department of Agriculture, there are 21,720,000 milch cows in the United States, and these are worth $702,945,000.
The magnitude of the industry can perhaps be best understood when it is considered that these cows produce yearly $1,000,000,000 worth of dairy products.

There is no other branch of diversified agriculture so important to the progress of a community. The fertility of the soil can best be maintained by the liberal use of barnyard manure and the dairy herd not only makes this possible, but dairying is also more remunerative than other branches of farming when properly carried on.

Dairying has made wonderful pro-
